DUCK HUNTING IMPROVING

As the ice storm came in with freezing rain and a coating of ice over everything so came the ducks. It had been slow for the last couple of weeks. The big south wind after the ice storm from the coast blew in a ton of ducks. Number of us were out Thursday hunting and with a gentle wind blowing from the South the birds were setting up quite nicely in front of the blinds.
Hopefully the ducks stay for awhile but in the past, they will start leaving and heading back to the coast. Well as the old saying said make hay while the sun shines. Thursday took a break in the shooting to remove some of the decoys from the set up and retrieve some that have drifted down the lake. The best hunting seems to be when the GMA is not hunting. Good Luck and see you out there.
