

January 2025 Newsletter

Pope Lake Hunt Club

Jan., 2025
Volume 16, Issue 1

Things are a bit Slow.

All things considered it has been pretty slow for the last few weeks of the season. With the close coming on January 26, 2025. The bird count is down even from last season and hearing the same from most of the clubs in the area. We have just not gotten the cold weather like in years past. Even the weather in Canada for the last few weeks has been in the 40-degree mark. Not good to induce the ducks and geese to fly South. We have had a few good shoots but not as many as we would like. One thing that has been good is the great lunches being put on by the members on Saturday. Let hope things pick up.
